

General Invitation Extended Public to Share in Community Ambassador Project of JC's

The Warren Jaycee Club has issued the following letter to the many organizations throughout Warren and Warren County. It is hoped that any citizen of Warren or Warren County belonging to an organization not receiving a letter will call this printed letter to the attention of his or her organization.

February 5, 1958
For the past three years Warren County citizens, mainly through contributions from organizations, have sent ambassadors to three different foreign countries. These three ambassadors have been Miss Kay Costley, Miss Sybil Weiler and Miss Dawn Taft, who have visited, respectively, Germany, Holland and Switzerland. After their return each of these young ladies spoke to more than fifty Warren County Organizations telling about their experiences in the country where they visited.

The Community Ambassador Project has a two-fold object:

1. To represent the people of Warren County and their interests to people of foreign countries.
2. To have our community share in the ambassador's experiences in the foreign community.

Each of our ambassadors has expressed the feeling that the opportunity given to them was the most memorable experience of their life. The Jaycee Committee in charge of this project hopes that your organization has come to believe in the values of this project.

We feel that we can be very proud that Warren County is one of the sixty American communities that sent an ambassador to a foreign country last year.

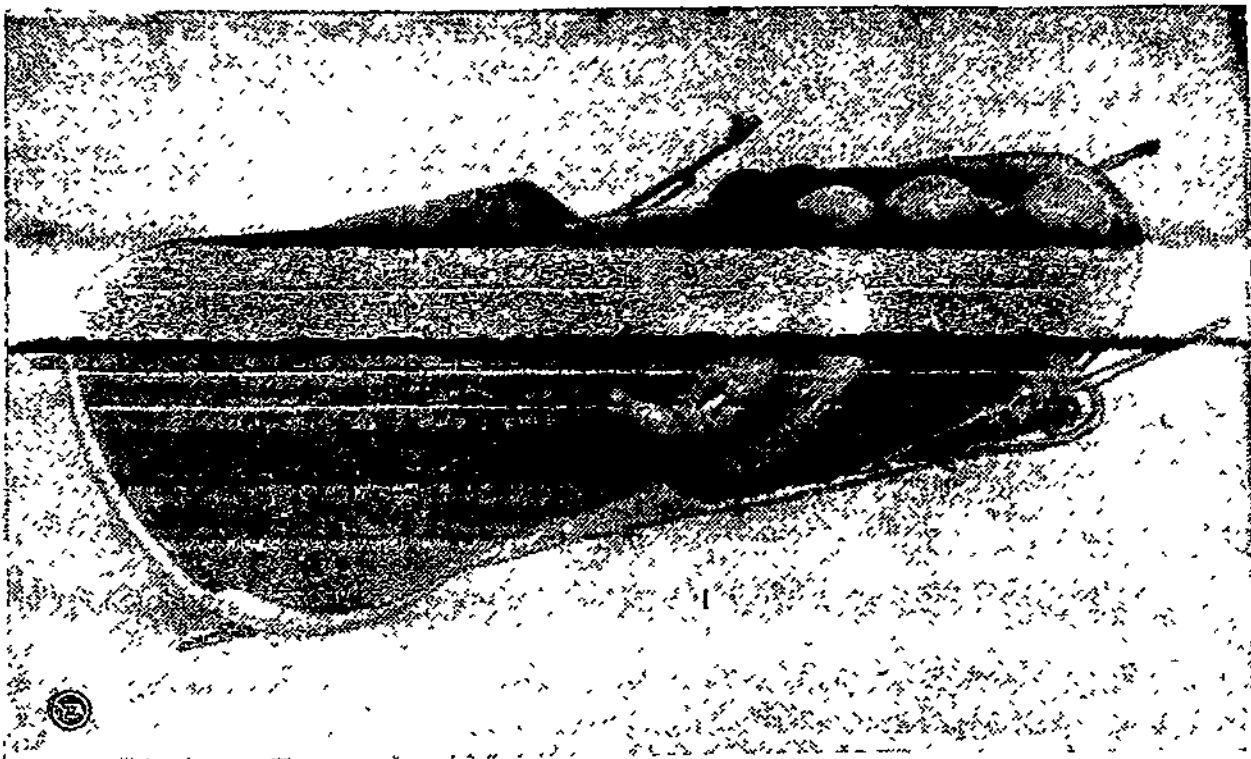

The purpose of this letter is to invite your organization to make a contribution to the Community Ambassador Project. Last year many organizations and individuals gave donations which averaged $10.00 in amount. Any amount may be contributed, and a donation of $10.00 or more entitles your organization to have a guest speaker, this year's young ambassador, after his or her return from a foreign country. Our goal for 1958 is $1000.00, which is the same as last year.

Will you please bring this letter to the attention of your organization as soon as possible to determine if it wishes to support the Community Ambassador Project this year. If you should desire additional information about the project, please call me or one of the members of the project committee. Contributions can be sent to: Warren Community Ambassador Project, c/o Warren Jaycees, Box 147, Warren.

Whether you do, or do not give some financial support to the project we would like to have you join our group for our 1958 Community Ambassador Project. The eligibility rules are the same as those of last year, and will be supplied upon request.

It is the sincere hope of the Project Committee that your organization will want to participate in this fine community enterprise.

Sincerely yours,
David Swanson, Chairman
Community Ambassador Committee

Cancer Program at Warren General Is Making Progress

The following news release has been received from the office of Joseph A. Williamson, administrator for the Warren General Hospital:

The cancer program at Warren General Hospital has taken on added significance since the visit from Harold R. Hennessy of the American College of Surgeons on January 24. At that time Dr. Hennessy discussed the position of the American College of Surgeons in regard to cancer and his presentation was well received by members of the Medical Staff and Board of Directors.

It was pointed out by Dr. Hennessy that the program is mostly one of education of the public to the importance of early cancer detection and treatment by the family physician. The follow-up of patients by the family physician is paramount and the results are recorded in the Tumor Registry at the hospital. These statistics are gathered for all different types of tumors and various longevity tables, graphs, and other statistical data can be compiled. In hospitals where such data have been collected for a number of years, the change has been dramatic. With early detection and treatment, patients do have a better chance of the tumor being arrested and cured.

Another phase of the cancer program is the establishment of a Tumor Board, which will help in the evaluation of patients who have been afflicted with this disease. By such evaluation, it is hoped that the patient will benefit. It must be remembered however, that the family physician is the key to the success of this program, since the patient is under his care and supervision and he has continuous contact with the patient.

Plans are now under way to implement this broadened program at Warren General Hospital and it is hoped that the cancer program can become accredited within the next 18 months. The program must be in operation for at least one year before a survey can be made by the American College of Surgeons.

The Warren Idea for Development And Growth of Our Area in 1958

The following 1958 "Program of Work" somewhat condensed from the original brochure as distributed at the annual dinner last evening, has been proposed by a special committee for adoption by the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors. The board will take final action February 11. In the meantime any of our directors would be pleased to hear reaction to the proposals listed in the program which follows:

During the past few years the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce has been active in promoting a program of planned industrial development in the Warren Area. This program has been the Chamber's most important project for the future health and strength of the local economy. It will be continued as an important element in the Chamber's program for 1958 and subsequent years.

Industrial development, however, is but one of the elements which should be considered by the Chamber in working for successful future of this area. In addition to the needs the area now faces, industrial development will create new needs which must be met if the area is to achieve desirable benefits from economic growth.

Housing, municipal services such as fire protection, police, water and sewerage, recreational facilities, roads and streets, land availability, are typical problems which will have to be faced when the area grows.

To be able to satisfactorily solve these problems, a sound foundation of area planning is required.

In order to properly benefit from future industrial growth and an increase in population, Warren and Warren County requires a more highly developed program of Borough, Township and County Planning. Similarly, many of the individual projects of the Chamber of Commerce, such as housing development, parking and highway development, require a broader context in order to be successfully completed.

Therefore, one of the most important parts of the 1958 program of work will be the encouragement of area planning.

The following endeavors and activities will be carried out in the new year:

Planning—The Chamber of Commerce will work for:

1. An aggressive planning program of the Planning Commission in Warren County.
2. Creation of a Township-Borough-County Joint Planning Commission or co-ordination of the various commissions.
3. Employment of at least one full time professional planner for the Planning Commissions, singularly or jointly.
4. Creation of a comprehensive Master Plan for the development of the Borough and County. Particular attention in the Master Plan should be given to the problem of land use to insure an adequate supply of land for industry, housing, commercial and public purposes (including recreation). In addition, attention should be given to the adequacy of roads and streets, downtown parking and various municipal services such as water and sewerage in the future development of the area.
5. Employment of outside professional assistance (in addition to the full time local staff) in establishing a planning program and procedures and a development of a Master Plan.

6. Re-evaluation of existing zoning ordinances in terms of a Master Plan and the establishment of an adequate County-wide Building Code and Building Permit system.

Business Development—This committee will continue to work closely with Warren Industrial Development Corporation (WIDCO) and Warren County Development Association in preparing Warren for anticipated business expansion.

Highway Transportation—Realizing that good roads providing high speed transportation both for business and tourist travel are a necessity in the development of Warren Area, this committee will work in 1958 to provide Warren County with a fair share of new highway construction and improvements. Most important is provision for a modern highway to connect Warren with the new super highway north and south of the county and to provide quick access to the sports of Erie and Buffalo in their positions on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Air Transportation—While the Chamber believes strongly in the preservation of the municipal airport and the fullest use of its facilities, it also advocates long range planning toward establishment of a new federally approved commercial airport to serve Warren, Jamestown and Corry.

Manufacturers Committee—The needs of industry are closely identified with needs of the community. Excellent relationships leading to free exchange of ideas among industry, business and other community leaders will prove beneficial to economic health of this community. The committee will cooperate in staging a Business-Industry Education Day, and in encouraging employee participation in the Penn State Extension courses. It will also assist in the compilation of the Warren County Industrial Directory.

Legislative Affairs—Legislation at local and state level has an important effect on local businesses and our citizens.

Kinzua Dam—This newly formed committee has offered its assistance to the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers in solving local problems that may arise during the years in which the Kinzua Dam will be under construction.

Retail Division—Citizens of Warren will best be served by fostering and developing retail trade in the Community, by stimulating and promoting higher standards of selling and business methods in retailing, and by promoting cooperative fellowship and understanding among those engaged in retail trade. Included in the 1958 activity of this Division will be at least four retail sales promotions and the continuance of the community Christmas street-lighting project.

Parking and Traffic—Additional parking facilities in our growing community is a concern of every citizen. Parking is important to present and potential growth of commerce and industry and to all persons who reside in this area and make use of the facilities offered. A clear and demonstrated need has been recognized by the Chamber for additional off-street parking facilities. This committee's objectives are:

1. To help formulate an off-street parking program and methods of financing and cooperate with borough authorities in carrying out the plan.

2. To work actively in a program designed to obtain full public understanding and support for additional downtown parking.
3. To advocate and campaign for a professional parking and traffic survey that will be useful for a long range program.

Tourist Attraction—Exploitation of Warren County as gateway to Allegheny National Forest and as a paradise for hunters and fishermen will continue to be a major activity of this committee.

Recreation—In complying with requests from many Chamber members, this committee will cooperate in 1958 with other agencies work on providing recreational facilities for the area. The committee will give special attention to the need for swimming pool for the community.

Promotion and Publicity—Development of a greater civic pride and publicizing of our city's assets is considered an important aspect of a good place to live and do business.

Accommodations Director—One of the most requested Chamber publications, the "Accommodations for Hunters, Fishermen and Tourists", is printed annually by this committee and distributed throughout eastern United States. Each year the number of copies is increased; in 1957, 8,000 were printed and quickly disposed of. This year, the committee will review the project and devise ways of making the folder more attractive and useful.

Education—Educational progress is essential to community growth. All have a stake in the

IDEAS FOR WARREN

The Chamber received several ideas for the 1958 Program of Work. All reflected sincere interest in the community and gave evidence of sound and logical thought. Many covered similar subjects and are included in the listings in this folder, at least in a broad sense. It is obvious that we do not have space for full publication.

Naturally, as in the case of many good ideas, some can be achieved immediately; others can only be initiated for long-term completion. We wish to assure all contributors, however, that their ideas will not be overlooked. All suggestions will be available for committee consideration and action.

This 1958 "Program of Work" has been proposed by a special committee for adoption by the Chamber Board of Directors. The Board will take final action February 11. In the meantime, any of the Directors would be pleased to hear your reaction to the proposals listed in this program.

educational facilities of our city. Future progress and opportunities are closely allied with the mental and physical fitness of our youth to cope with industry and business requirements.

Agriculture—Recognizing achievements of Warren area student farmers has become traditional for the Chamber of Commerce. In 1958 the committee will make its 12th annual awards to winners of the Future Farmers Degree of the Future Farmers of America. These cash awards are added recognition to the young farmers who have won the highest state honor of the F. F. A.

Membership—The strength of any Chamber of Commerce depends on sufficient membership support and participation. The objectives of this committee shall be to maintain the strength of our Chamber through continuing efforts for getting new members and maintaining a strong interest in the Chamber's program among present members. The goal for 1958 is 500 active members!

Finance—Development, administration and supervision of finances are necessary adjuncts of manpower and ideas in any successful organization. This committee will review Chamber finances and be responsible for administration of financial plans. It will also develop the annual budget by which the Chamber operates.

Credit Bureau—This activity continues to be one of the Chamber's finest services to the community. Unlike Credit Bureaus operated for profit in most cities, the Warren Bureau with a full staff of two persons, is maintained on a non-profit basis to provide users with minimum fees.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT EDWARD SHAW

Valerie Suzanne Lemmon, daughter of Mrs. C. Sturley Lemmon and the late Mr. Lemmon, 909 Conewango avenue, became the bride of Robert Edward Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Shaw, Russell, in a double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m. February 1 in First Methodist church.

Dr. A. C. Schultz officiated before an altar decorated with baskets of white pom poms and pink carnations. George A. Johnson provided traditional wedding music at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Arnold, wore imported, rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over satin, the fitted basque bodice fashioned with scalloped v-neckline, embroidered with sequins, and saxon sleeves, the bouffant floor length skirt accented with a lace peplum and scalloped bands of lace.

Her finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a matching lace sweetheart hat and she wore a pearl necklace and earrings, the bridegroom's gift; also a white pearl pendant of her grandmother's. She carried a spray of white roses, pom poms and lily of the valley.

Joan Sorenson was maid of honor in a ballerina length gown of crimson glow velvet, fashioned with portrait neckline, princess center panel, and short shirred sleeves. She wore a matching velvet pillbox with veil and carried crimson carnations and white pom poms. Similarly attired in Arabian peacock and carrying yellow carnations and white pom poms, bridesmaids were Beverly Chapel, Warren, and Marilyn Miller, Youngsville.

Completing the bridal party were Ronald A. Shaw, best man; Curtis Sorensen, Douglas Arnold, Ralph Shaw, Jr., and Gail Shaw, ushers.

The bride's mother chose an ensemble of colonial blue lace over taffeta, with matching accessories; Mrs. Shaw selected black accents with turquoise embroidered nylon over taffeta, each with a pink rosebud corsage.

Guests numbering 135 attended the reception which followed in Dunham Parlors of the church, where appointments featured pink and white carnations, a three-tier wedding cake in the same shades, and candelabra. Mrs. Melvin Smith, Warren, served the cake; Mrs. David Lee, Buffalo, was at the punch bowl; Mrs. Nick Sencuk and Mrs. Richard D. Arnold poured; aides were Elaine Crecraft and Mrs. Richard Zampogna.

Ted Shaw, USAF, in Korea, was an out of town guest, others coming from Jamestown, Dewittville, Buffalo, Russell and Youngsville.

Leaving for their new home in Morristown RD 1, Fla., the bride wore a beige knit suit with gold thread accents, crimson accessories, and a white rose corsage.

Graduate of Warren High in 1951, the bride has been employed as bookkeeper at Warren National Bank. Mr. Shaw, WHS alumnus in '49 and of University of Florida in 1956, is continuing his studies in pharmacy at the latter school.

Hostesses honoring the bride-elect have been Mrs. Curtis Sorensen, girls at the bank, Mrs. Glenn Chapel, Mrs. James Miller of Youngsville, Mrs. Cecil Heeter of Sheffield. A buffet luncheon following the rehearsal was given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold.

COMMUNITY PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Ludlow—Mrs. William Hanson was hostess at her home for a community shower honoring Marlene Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Smith, Binghamton, N. Y., who will soon become the bride of Wayne Gregg of Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gregg, Ludlow. Miss Smith and her fiancé spent last weekend at the Gregg home, completing plans for their wedding February 15.

Thirty-one women attended the shower event, which was climaxed by opening of many beautiful and varied gifts. Refreshments were served at a table made most attractive with a color theme of yellow flowers and tapers.

Nears 93rd Anniversary

Native of Tidoute and relative of Mrs. Albert D. Walter of 12½ Carver street, as well as of the various Stanton families in the Lander area, Mrs. Charles F. Stanton, 315 Walnut street, Sewickley, will be 93 years old on February 21. Quoting from an interesting illustrated article in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, "Mrs. Stanton was born in the year Abe Lincoln died, and has lived through radically changing years."

Mrs. Stanton is always busy, the tale continues, expressing the belief "when people don't like to move around and get exercise, then they are old." Keeping busy, she says, is the way to live a long and prosperous life.

Sewing is Mrs. Stanton's favorite pastime, using a 37 year old machine with a treadle. She makes most of the clothes she wears, also for her daughter, Mrs. George A. Hays, with whom she resides, while four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren enjoy the fruits of her handiwork.

Another recent accomplishment is a full-sized tablecloth made of many crocheted medallions, joined with a maze of tiny threads. "I'm not old enough to make one," she replied when asked about making patchwork quilts.

Mrs. Stanton recalls early trips on rafts down the Allegheny from Tidoute to Pittsburgh, the journey taking four days and the return trip made by train. Going to East Liberty, Pa., as a bride, she remembers when "there was nothing between East Liberty and downtown but horse-drawn street cars." She joined the Methodist church when she was married and is now the oldest living member of Lincoln Avenue Methodist church in East Liberty.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

With a sewing session scheduled at 1:30 p. m. Friday and a business meeting at 3:00, all members of Warren General Hospital Auxiliary are urged to be on hand in the hospital cafeteria.

The Mature Parent

Parent Must Allow Child To Mature at His Own Pace

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

IN the park Doreen's baby brother had just dozed back into sleep. Still rocking his buggy, her mother suddenly noticed that Doreen had dropped her quacking duck and was leaning heavily against the opposite bench. She knew what was coming.

Sure enough, Doreen pulled off her mitten. Then bending her snowsweated body at the waist, she dropped her head on the bench's slatted seat—and put her thumb in her mouth. Her face took on the rapt, dreamy look of the person who's managed to get a little out of this world.

To the other mother on the bench beside her, Doreen's mother said resignedly, "She's tired. We'll have to go. Oh, goodness, how I wish I could make her stop sucking her thumb!"

SHE should examine her use of that word "make." It indicates an inflated, swollen sense of responsibility. It tells us that Doreen's mother wishes, like God, to "make" her child in her own image—in the likeness of a non-thumbsucking woman of 26 years.

This egotism, uncorrected, can make her much trouble. It will oblige her to try and "make" her children do all kinds of things they are not ready to do. The wish to "make" Doreen stop sucking her thumb will become the wish to "make" her truthful, to "make" Billy get better marks in spelling, to "make" the children find only desirable friends, to "make" them display developments that have not yet been made.

They will begin to sense her impatience with those they have made, and either begin to rebel against her pressures or become ashamed and self-reproachful people.

THOSE of us who think in terms of "making" developments we consider desirable in children end up by becoming unhappy, disappointed parents.

This is inevitable. None of us knows enough to play at the role of Maker. When we try to play it, we need anxiety and suffering to restore humility to us.

Of the geranium plant in our living room, we do not say, "Oh, how I wish I could make it blossom!" We know that the plant will manifest blossoms in its own time if we make water and sun available to it.

We need the same respect for the principle of growth in Doreen instead of trying to "make" her show a maturity that is still in the process of development.

Diamond Grangers Will Assist Cancer Crusade

At the regular meeting of Diamond Grange Tuesday evening, the charter was draped in loving memory of Mrs. Mary Edmiston, recently-deceased member. In addition to being a member in her own right, she was the grandmother of Gary Edmiston of Pionia, who is now serving in the armed forces.

Owing to a misunderstanding, it was reported Diamond Grange will again conduct the Cancer Crusade in Mead township and Clarendon Borough. It should have been reported that members of the Grange will assist the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, in its solicitation.

Following a brief business session, the meeting was turned over to the lecturer, who asked members to write poems about the Grange, after which they were read by the lecturer and members tried to guess who the poets were. A quiz was conducted regarding Grange offices, procedure, etc., which was very informative.

Florence Schweitzer announced that at the next meeting, Isabel Luther, local postmaster, will present a program on the Post Office Department which should be of interest to all.

Merle Schweitzer was appointed by Master Clements to serve as chairman of a Plant Sale again this year; a contribution was made to the Warren County Heart Association.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Isabel Luther and Mrs. Myrtle Stranburg.

These Have Waistline Defined

Here are three distinctly different ways to look this spring, in fashions from top designers. But all three have one thing in common: soft, gentle lines. Elegant suit in beige silk and wool (left) is from Harry Frechtel's spring collection. It's collared in sable, has one jeweled button at the waistline. Suit in slate-gray cotton gabardine (center) by Claire Mc-

Cardell has buckled leather straps at front closing. Collar is standaway and brief jacket is cropped at the waistline. Orange-red sheer wool jacket and dress make the kind of costume that American women love (right). The short, slightly shaped jacket covers a sleeveless dress. All three designs define the waistline and flatter the figure.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — In the spring collections of this nation's top designers, shapely fashions take top honors.

A fashion may be slim or straight but if it is sound fashion, it is never shapeless nor does it ignore the natural curves of the body. The true sack dress is a freak and the woman does not exist who would be the prettier for wearing it. You'll find a gentle, eased line in spring fashions when you start shopping for a new suit, a dress, an ensemble. But you'll find the waist well-defined and the bosom-line present, not flattened, in really good fashion. As you buy, remember that proportion is the rule for deciding your skirt length. A leggy, slim model may be able to wear a short skirt and look great. This does not mean that such a skirt will look well on every other woman in the country. It means that there can be no set skirt length for one and all. There's one skirt length that's best for you and it's neither near the ankles nor up to the knees for daytime wear. It's most likely to be mid-calf or an inch above. The bloused line, belted at the natural waistline and with more blousing in the past, appears in many spring collections. It's used both for dresses and suits and is equally pretty for both dressy and tailored fashions.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW (AP News Analyst)

Associated Press News Analyst Washington (AP)—The summit conference is no closer than when President Eisenhower and Premier Bulganin began writing letters about it almost two months ago. Bulganin has written three letters, each pretty much a repetition of the previous one. Eisenhower has written one, is expected to write another. At this rate it could go on for months.

Bulganin put this country on the offensive with his first letter when Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles put the Soviet Union on the defensive. The score so far: No hits, no runs, and it's too soon to detect the errors.

Bulganin's first letter was written at a moment calculated to get the most propaganda benefit: just when Eisenhower and Dulles were saying last December for a Paris meeting with this country's NATO allies.

Some of the Allies were jumping over Russia's revelation of its missile progress. They wanted peace and if a summit conference offered a chance for it, they wanted that.

This put Eisenhower and Dulles in the spot. They had no great desire for another summit meeting, but they had to do something positive to offset the Soviet propaganda. That is, they couldn't say no, flatly. They had to do something which didn't slam the door.

Eisenhower wrote to Bulganin in January, after Bulganin had sent him a second note. The President rejected some of the Russian's ideas, ignored others, and offered some of his own.

Then he laid down two conditions which put the Soviets in the position of having to make concessions or demonstrate good will and still gave Eisenhower and Dulles an out if, in the end, they didn't want a summit meeting.

1. Eisenhower said he didn't want a summit meeting that shoot off in all directions. He wanted preparations for it and this had to be done by American and Soviet ambassadors here and in Moscow and also by the foreign ministers.

Eisenhower didn't say either by the diplomats or foreign ministers. He said by both.

2. But even this wasn't enough. He wanted to feel sure—presumably after the preparations were all complete—that a summit meeting was still worthwhile.

Bulganin answered last Sunday. It was almost as if he hadn't read Eisenhower's letter. He just repeated what he said before, even items that Eisenhower had rejected.

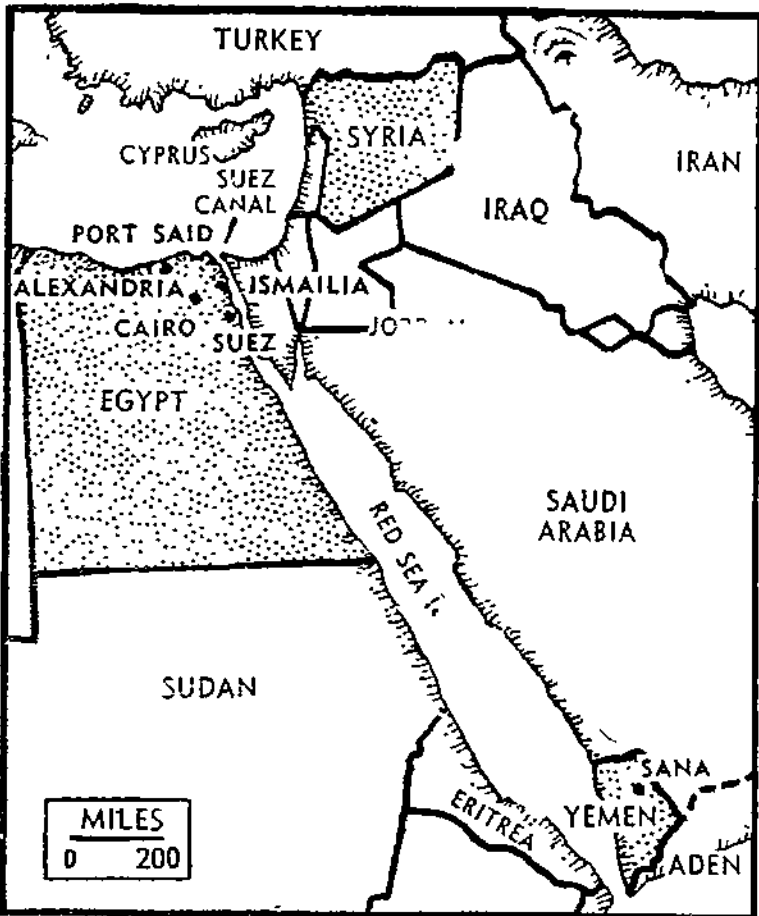

Bulganin also rejected some of Eisenhower's ideas and ignored others. But above all he ruled out the idea of preparations made by the foreign ministers, with a thinly veiled slap at Dulles.

Last night the White House fired back. Eisenhower himself didn't answer Bulganin directly.

He can do that later in a letter. He let the White House put out a statement.

It said—but more politely—that the Soviets will have to go a lot further to convince Eisenhower a summit meeting could do any good. In effect it rejected what Bulganin has proposed so far.

Since Bulganin doesn't seem to have much else to do besides writing letters, he'll probably write another.

JOINING IN—Yemen has joined the Syria-Egyptian union in a move to strengthen Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's bid to lead the entire Arab world into "positive neutrality," according to informed sources. It is believed that Imam Ahmed, ruler of the tiny monarchy (see Newsmap), has abdicated in favor of Crown Prince Mohammed Seif Al Islam El Badr. El Badr drove to Cairo to reportedly declare adherence to the new United Arab Republic. An Israeli foreign ministry spokesman in Jerusalem said the union (shaded areas) is only theoretical and will not last long.

Acquittal of Lydia Dean High Point in Career of McGill

The Deluck: Lydia Dean's acquittal is the "high point" to date in attorney Gerald McGill's legal career.

This career has included five first-degree murder trials and eight manslaughter cases, in one of which he acted as prosecutor and won a conviction.

Back in the early 30s, Attorney McGill along with John M. McGill, his father, defended Walter Withers of Kennedell, charged with shooting to death his father. Withers was acquitted.

In 1935, he was defense attorney in the Harry Diagan case, a shooting, which resulted in a second-degree conviction. He gained the same verdict in 1940 in a case involving a fatal knife.

In a tavern brawl killing in 1943 his client, charged with first-degree murder, was convicted on a manslaughter charge.

Attorney McGill's eight manslaughter cases included action in five counties among which was Allegheny County, Pittsburgh. He cited as one of the more difficult cases a case in Tionesta when he gained an acquittal. It was the case in which he acted as prosecuting attorney and won a guilty verdict.

As to the outcome of the Dean case, McGill had this to say, "I was sure of acquittal all the way."

The $500 compensation he received was nominal to say the very least. He worked hard on the case since December 7 and since the trial opened January 27 he labored day and night, getting very little sleep.

He allowed his work at the office to pile up so that he could devote as much time as possible to the Lydia case.

"I didn't do it for any pecuniary gains," he said.

News From Association For Retarded Children

Publicity release printed in the interest of the Warren County Association for Retarded Children: Members and friends of the Warren County Association for Retarded Children sponsored a party for 35 boys at Polk State School Saturday, January 25th. Dr. Gale Walker, Superintendent of the school, Dr. Frank Varva, Chief Psychologist, Mrs. Flanders, Head of the Education Department, Miss Mary Lou Byers, Activities Director, were also present and most grateful for the interest shown by the Warren Chapter in providing this party.

Howard Fox of Akeley and Inner Anderson of Jamestown entertained the boys with their very enjoyable and amusing magic and comedy act. Refreshments were served by the group from a table decorated with rockets, space men, and rocket ships. There were displays of the solar system and models of various planets made by the science class at Bealy Junior High School. Pens were distributed as gifts to the boys through the courtesy of the Anderson Baking Company.

This was the first of a series of "Saturday Parties" to be given at Polk School to afford parents and friends a closer personal relationship with the school program and also to help broaden activities there. Any interested individuals or organizations who would like to participate in these Saturday Parties may contact Mrs. Robert Youngquist, 26 Anchor street, Clarendon. The Warren chapter is scheduled to give another party for a group of girls in May of this year.

The local group also delivered to the school, several cartons of cards and books collected through the Warren County Council of Churches.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SOUTH EARNS TOP BY CARD COUNT

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

Here is another match point hand. South wanted a top score and decided to play the hand somewhat irregularly from the start.

He won the queen of spades with dummy's king and noted East's play of the eight. It looked like a singleton; not a come-on signal. Hence East was likely to be long in diamonds.

The jack of diamonds was led from dummy and allowed to ride. Now the four of hearts was played. East played the ten and South won with the queen. South cashed the ace of diamonds and noted the bad

Sugar Grove Firemen Out Three Days in Row

Sugar Grove—Local volunteer firemen have had calls on three successive days, starting Sunday afternoon, when they stood by in Lander while that department went to the fair fire on Stanton Hill.

Monday morning, they answered a resuscitator call to the Oscar Lauger home in Wrightsville and accompanied Mr. Lauger by ambulance to WCA Hospital in Jamestown.

Again, Tuesday afternoon, they were called to the Sidney DeRemer home near Chandlers Valley, where an overheated chimney had started an attic fire and did considerable damage. Thanks to prompt action of the owner and a neighbor, Lee Johnson, the fire was under control when the firemen arrived. He was congratulated on his foresight of keeping doors closed and forcing the garden hose through the ceiling to put out the flames.

Friends have received word of the critical illness of James Felton at Summanna, N. C. He was a former resident here.

Everett Landin, supervising principal of Northern Area Schools, is recuperating at home following his discharge from WCA Hospital in Jamestown and will require a few weeks' rest. His brother, Harold, who is principal at Eisenhower High School, has assumed his supervising duties, with John Bunney, assistant, taking over high school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Saxon and family, of Steadman, and Mrs. Catherine Carr called on Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Johnson and Mrs. Charles Henry in Youngsville Sunday.

Letters to Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:
 In your paper of Jan. 28, 1958, "A Voter" from Youngsville, Pa., said I find the controversy amusing. Then he said the odd thing is that Mr. Mead does not know that he is helping the Democrats. I do want to say I heard and read a lot of that happened in our county.

THE AUDIT

The honest mistake that cost the county a lot of money. Some said this went on for 20 years some of officers didn't keep books. The Youngsville tax payer said some one seems to be in a fog.

I do not know. Just who he meant if he meant Mr. Crippen I think Mr. Crippen has a lot of friends in Youngsville. The Youngsville Republicans elected him Burgess last fall. I have never met Mr. Mead. But I believe that Mr. Mead does his own thinking. I am not going to censure him for doing his duty. Every officer holder takes an oath to deal as he should.

I feel that Mead and Crippen have lived up to what they promised—and there oath of office. The Big Surprise came in your paper Jan. 30, 1958. I talked with quite a few people. Some said it is to bad. One man said this what happens when we only have one party. One man said this always happens when you keep people in office to long.

One good brother said
 Let the truth be known.
 Praise the Lord
 This was a Republican
 From a registered Republican
 Clarendon, Pa.

EDITOR:
 I am not acquainted with Mr. Crippen or Mr. Johnson but I am writing as a supporter of Mr. Mead.

Your editorial of Dec. 31 read as though you favored a private or what would amount to secret settlement of the Commissioners go-round with the D. A. and Sheriff. Why try to keep this sort of thing quiet?

On Jan. 4 '58 you state there has been no difference of opinion between Mead and Crippen. If you leave politics out, why should there be?

Both men are trying to show the taxpayers how their tax dollars are being spent.

Instead of Mead being a step or two behind, I think he is several steps ahead of the Old Guard, and I believe a majority of the voters are with him.

Yours truly,
 R. E. Burns

Timely Reminder for Farmers Who Employed Workers in '57

Farmers who employed workers in 1957 were reminded today that they must report the wages of these workers by the end of this month. The announcement was made by Chester R. Norman, Social Security Administration, District Office, Jamestown, N. Y.

Farm work is covered under social security if the farm employer pays the worker $150.00 or more in cash wages during the year, or if the worker works on 20 or more days during the year for cash wages figured on a time basis—that is, by the hour, or day, or week. If the work is covered by social security, the employer must collect the taxes and report the wages to the Internal Revenue Service. His report and taxes for 1957 are due by January 31, 1958.

His report should include the farm worker's name, social security number, and the amount of wages paid. So all farm employers who pay wages in 1957 must be sure they have this information and all farm workers must have social security cards.

A farm worker is covered if he is paid $150.00 by one farmer in a year no matter how many days he may work. Also, a worker who works for one farmer on 20 days of the year is covered no matter how much he is paid, if his pay is figured by the hour, day, week or month.

The $150 pay and the 20 days of work don't have to be gathered in one stretch of work. If, in adding up all wages paid during a whole year or all the days he worked during a whole year, the farm worker meets either of these tests, then his earnings are covered by social security.

When we came to farm crews, we find that sometimes the farmer and sometimes the crew leader reports the wages of the crews. If the crew leader furnishes a crew of workers and pays the workers (either for himself or for the farmer), he must make the report of wages. This is true unless the crew leader has a written agreement with the farmer saying that the crew leader himself is an employee of the farmer. If there is a written agreement like that between the crew leader and the farmer, then the farmer makes the report. Farm employees should keep records of the wages paid to them for their covered farm work. Their records should show the names and addresses of their employers.

If a farm worker believes his wages haven't been reported properly, he should make a list of the names and addresses of his employers, and come in to the social security office. The social security office in this area is located at Room 312, Hotel Jamestown Bldg., Jamestown, N. Y.

Jupiter-C Is Finally Hatched By Team of German Scientists

By BEN PRICE

Washington (AP) — Dr. Werner von Braun and his 130-man team of former German scientists finally have hatched their egg — the satellite carrying Jupiter-C rocket.

For two years Von Braun's team at the Army ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., have been aching for an opportunity to prove the Jupiter-C could host an earth satellite into the heavens.

The Jupiter-C sat in the Army's machine shops while the Navy got the job of putting up a satellite, using the Vanguard rocket, with its 27,000 pound thrust, as a launcher. The first Vanguard effort on Dec. 6 was a failure.

When the existence of the Jupiter-C first was reported by The Associated Press last June 6, Von Braun made this observation: "It is a difficult thing for a team which has a lead in eggs not to get an opportunity to hatch at least one of them."

Friday night was hatching time. Von Braun and his team of ex-Germans are the men who devised the V-2 rocket which nearly knocked London to pieces in the final stages of World War II.

The story of how Von Braun and his team came to the United States goes back to 1945 and the last days of Hitler's Third Reich. Russians and the Western allies were sweeping through Germany. One of the major objectives was the missile base at Peenemunde on the Baltic Sea.

As the Russians neared the base the rocket scientists were faced with a choice: Capture by the Soviets or flight to the West.

The whole story may never be told, but there are occasional hints of a race by the Americans then to pluck a few of the scientists from the Soviet advance, of American intelligence officers herding these scientists westward while others remained behind to blow up bridges and roads.

Most of the 130 scientists, now all American citizens, came to the United States under a one year contract with the U. S. Army.

They were assembled first at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Texas, where they were kept under heavy guard. Their job here was to teach Americans about the V-2.

Each carried a passport as strange as any ever issued in this country.

Each passport bore a notation, addressed to all police authorities, that if the bearer became lost, injured or ill, he was not to be questioned and nobody was to be notified except the authorities at Fort Bliss.

The day arrived in 1949 when it became imperative to get the visitors into the United States—officially. One day they moved across the border into Mexico. Six hours later, equipped with regular passports, they took a 20-minute ride by streetcar back into the United States. They were officially in the country and thus eligible for citizenship.

One reason for the move was that the Army had decided to set up the ballistic missile agency on a permanent basis at Huntsville.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

THEY GOT IT UP—Three of the top scientists who participated in the launching of the U.S. earth satellite, hold a space satellite—an exact replica of the one orbiting the earth—over their heads during a press conference in Washington. They are, from left, Dr. William Pickering, a jet propulsion expert; James A. Van Allen, of Iowa State University, in charge of cosmic ray apparatus aboard the satellite, and Dr. Werner von Braun, the German-born scientist who designed the Jupiter-C rocket which put "Explorer" into orbit.

WATERBIRD—Churning up a pretty pattern is the Navy's new P6M Martin "Seamaster" as it taxis across Chesapeake Bay in the company of a speed boat. The seaplane is a 600-mile-per-hour flying minelayer that would be used to go after enemy submarines in their home ports in the event of war. Its wing-top jet engine nacelles are cantilevered outward in order to eliminate heating of the plane's fuselage when the inboard engine afterburners are used on takeoffs.

SNUB?—Italian film star Gina Lollobrigida looks right past Venus, as painted by old master Bernardino Luini and poor old Venus seems to lose out completely as museum curator Lester Cooke ignores the Goddess of Love in favor of a gander at Gina. Occasion was recent visit of actress to Washington's National Gallery of Art.

UNDER A SCIENTIFIC MOON—Dr. James R. Killian, left, President Eisenhower's adviser on science, discusses literature about the moon with Richard Gimbel, curator of aeronautical literature at the Yale University library in New Haven, Conn. They stand under a cutout moon. Killian is attending a two-day conference with other top scientists at Yale.

COLONELS' CHOICE—Sjafruddin Prawiranegara, above, governor of the bank of Indonesia, is reportedly the choice of an Indonesian junta of "young colonels" to head an opposition government if President Sukarno doesn't kick Communist elements out of government. Sukarno, now vacationing in Japan, says he isn't worried.

SETS NEW MARK—Cleveland, Ohio, restaurateur Joe Cavoli lifts a glass of champagne after arriving back in Cleveland the holder of the new record for around-the-world flight on regularly scheduled airlines. Cavoli made the 20,400-mile trip in 89 hours, 18 minutes and 37 seconds, eclipsing the previous mark—set by a Chicago woman—by almost two hours. He made stops in New York, Rome, Beirut, Karachi, Calcutta, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Seattle and Chicago.

NO HARD FEELINGS—Cleveland Indians' pitcher Herb Score, right, and New York Yankees' infielder Gil MacDougald are shown as they lunched together in Cleveland. It was MacDougald's line drive last May that severely damaged Score's right eye and kept him out of action the remainder of the season.

TENNIS, ANYONE?—Elsie Dickerson, Texas Foster Girl, plays her favorite game the year 'round on the courts of San Antonio. Our scouts tell us she wins most of her games too, as male opponents have a tough time keeping their eyes on the ball.

NICKERSON GETS THE NEWS—Col. John Nickerson, former top Army missile man convicted last August by a court-martial of leaking rocket secrets, glances up from a Panama newspaper carrying the story of America's first earth satellite, the Explorer, launched by the Army's Jupiter missile. Nickerson, now an inspector of engineering facilities in the Canal Zone, refused to talk about the satellite. His wife said, "He has orders not to comment on missiles."

APPLE DUMPLING—If an apple a day keeps the doctor away, pretty Sandra Elswick, Pennsylvania's 1958 Apple Queen, is all set for a healthy life. The 17-year-old high school senior, from Stewartstown, Pa., was picked at the State Horticultural Association meeting in York, Pa.

TINY VALENTINE—The smallest man-made "star" ruby ever produced—16-thousandths of an inch—decorates this quarter-inch heart, a gift item for Valentine's Day, or other occasions. The "star" ruby is made by Linde Company, a division of Union Carbide Corporation.

VITAL STATISTICS—Diagrams above compare specifications of the Navy's Vanguard rocket and the Army's Jupiter-C, which launched America's first space satellite, "Explorer." The Navy rocket, delivering 27,000 pounds thrust in its first stage, when successfully fired, will place a 3½-pound, 6-inch sphere in orbit. Later firings call for a larger, 21-pound sphere. The "Explorer," an 80-inch, 30-pound tubular satellite, was lifted by a Redstone rocket, first stage of the Jupiter-C, developing about 75,000 pounds thrust. Unlike the three-stage Vanguard, the Army rocket has four stages, the last stage and the satellite orbiting as one unit.

TWO CANDIDATES—Mayor Anthony Celebrezze of Cleveland, left, hands his petitions for the Democratic nomination for governor to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown in Columbus. Brown is also a candidate for the nomination.

MIXED EMOTIONS—Ralph Bellamy, who portrays the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in "Sunrise at Campobello," listens attentively to Mrs. Roosevelt at a party following the play's opening in New York. The 72-year-old widow praised Bellamy's performance (as did the critics) but objected to the representation of herself. "It has no more to do with me than the man in the moon," she said. In the background is Mrs. Oscar Chapman, wife of the former Secretary of the Interior under F.D.R. The premier marked the 76th anniversary of the late president's birth.

WRONG SIGN—Goalie Harry Lumley of the Boston Bruins gives a V with his legs but he doesn't mean it. Actually, his notion on the situation was a bit different for Larry Popein of the New York Rangers just beat him with a goal.

Puts in Claim for $14,500 Found in Abandoned Case

Clarksburg, W. Va. (AP)—Ralph Rosenberg of Asbury Park, N. J., has put in a claim for the $14,500 found last Jan. 8 in a suitcase abandoned at a bus station here.

The money was found by Corles Hurst, who engaged an attorney, Byron Randolph, to find the owner. Randolph said yesterday he had received a letter from Rosenberg indicating he plans to come here and claim the money.

Rosenberg was an employee of the R. L. Polk and Co. of Pittsburgh and worked here about two years ago when the firm was preparing a Clarksburg city directory.

He took the money to police headquarters the following day. Officers said the $14,500 was in singles, fives tens and twenties.

school crime, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, and Charles H. Silver, president of Board of Education, go to the state capital at Albany today to seek more state aid for education here.

In major incidents, 16-year-old Frank Sloan, who is white, was beaten by three other students, all Negroes, in the lunchroom of the George Washington High School in Manhattan. Sloan, a student monitor, assertedly was attacked after directing three classmates to pick up paper they had thrown on the floor, and also barring them from the girls' section of the cafeteria.

Sloan was taken to a hospital suffering from a brain concussion. Two of his alleged assailants, both 15, were booked on juvenile delinquency charges. The third, George Addison, 16, was held on a charge of felonious assault.

Earlier, a 15-year-old monitor at Henry Hudson Junior High School in the Bronx was knifed at the entrance of the school building. Philip Romano, who is white, was stationed at the school entrance to keep students from entering before the opening bell. Five minutes before the bell, Romano barred a 14-year-old boy, a Negro, from entering. Romano was stabbed in the stomach and an operation was necessary. His condition was described as satisfactory. The 14-year-old boy was arraigned on a juvenile delinquency charge and paroled in the custody of his mother.

A Negro teen-ager—not a student—was seized in Manhattan's High School of Music and Art. The 16-year-old boy, who is white, was arrested on a charge of felonious assault. ## Over 500 Attend

At 8:30 the gathering moved quickly into the auditorium where the Dominoes quartet and the Speb Squires from the local barbershop singing society presented two groups of easy-to-listen-to melodies. Mr. Rice then introduced Dr. Banks who climaxed a highly successful annual event.

Dr. Banks has written four books which he offered for sale at the close of the evening. Proceeds from sale of these books go to the Mental Hygiene Society and scores of persons purchased the books in the lobby before leaving for home.

It was pointed out during the evening that the first annual banquet two years ago attracted 325 members when Jimmy Green was speaker. Last year the crowd increased to 425 to hear Dr. Kenneth McFarland. Last night's affair completely filled the cafeteria with 520 on hand to hear an equally outstanding speaker.

It was one of the most entertaining and informative gatherings held in the spacious banquet hall since it has been made available to the public. All concerned are to be highly commended for the success of the affair.

88-Car Freight Derailed at Irvine

Leaning perilously close to a Pennsylvania Railroad tower at Irvington is this empty boxcar which jumped the tracks about 11:30 a. m. today. That car and a loaded coal car jackknifed after the 88-car freight jumped when an air hose broke. The rear of the train blocked Route 6 at Irvine and traffic was rerouted through the railroad underpass beside Brokenstraw Creek, adjacent to the tower. PRR employee Irving Smith of Kane, shown above, had been working at the base of the tower just prior to the accident. At the time of derailment he was up in the tower watching helplessly as the boxcar jammed toward the building. The train was enroute from Oil City to Buffalo.

The request was made to the House Appropriations Committee by Robert C. Goodwin, director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security. Goodwin's closed-door testimony was made public by the committee.

Goodwin sought extra funds for veterans' unemployment payments, for benefits to jobless federal employees, and for unemployment compensation for persons outside these groups.

Psychiatrist William W. Richardson told after the trial that during his interrogation of Lydia ten days after the slaying she claimed her husband had threatened to kill her.

Though barred from testifying during the trial on a legal technicality, the Mercer Sanitarium medical director told a Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reporter yesterday of the threat. However, he admitted it would have been hearsay at the trial.

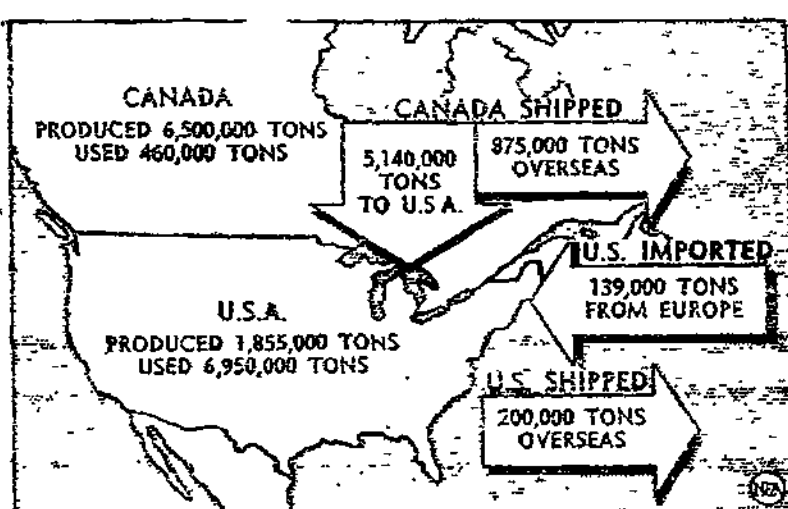

At the trial, Judge Lee A. McCracken upheld the objection of District Attorney Robert T. Granis to testimony by Richardson. The district attorney contended that, since the defense claimed the shooting was accidental, insanity was not an issue in the case.

Gerarde Says He's Fit for Coming Golden Gloves Bout

Rocky Gerarde announced today that he is in the very best of physical condition for the Golden Gloves in Pittsburgh next week, and added, "This is the best I've ever felt."

Rocky is planning to leave for the Golden scene Sunday morning with Manager Joe Fazio. Weigh-ins will be conducted from Penn-Sheraton Hotel Sunday between 1 and 5 p. m.

Rocky and Manager Fazio extend wholehearted thanks and wish to express their gratitude to all Warren area citizens who have donated funds to help make this important trip possible. While in Pittsburgh, Rocky and Joe expect to visit 12-year-old Sherran Valone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Valone, 5th street, who is attending a Blind School to help make her stay there a more pleasant one. The Ambassadors of Good Will and Friendship hope to greet other former Warren residents during the seven-day stint.

An appointment has been in Warren for Rocky to receive a professional-type rub down and hot bath to relax before his journey to the Gloves. Rocky and Joe will stay at the YMCA every night that they're in Pittsburgh.

Everybody entering the Gloves, will fight Monday, February 10, and the winners of Monday's contests, will be carried over to Tuesday and right on down the line until Thursday when two fighters from each weight division will be left to compete for the finals the following Monday.

If Rocky wins Monday, he'll have to fight Tuesday and will keep on going, until, if by chance and luck, he happens to be beaten. If not, "The Solid Rock" will fight every night next week and will be eligible for the final championship bout the 17th.

Approximately 20 flatcutters will be entered in the light-heavyweight division along with Rocky. Nearly 200 boxers are expected to enter the Dapper Dan tournament.

Donations are still being received by Perk Cameron and crew at the Texas Lunch in Times Square (opposite Times-Mirror) to help cover the large expense which will be incurred for the seven day stay in Pittsburgh.

If Rocky is eligible for the finals, plans are currently under way in Warren to charter a bus to Pittsburgh.

Times-Mirror will have a complete coverage on the fights to keep Warren fans posted on the latest happenings. All material received will be printed on the sports page the following day.

Dupas Wants Crack At Brown After His Split With Ortega

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—Classy Ralph Dupas of New Orleans wants a shot at Joe Brown's lightweight championship, and he and his handlers are willing to take just about any step that will assure it.

Dupas took a long drive to the title bout in the light-heavyweight division last night when he decided to stay in the city and watch the fight.

"I hope to be ready to meet anybody in the light-heavyweight division," Dupas said. "I'm a fighter and I want to win."

The second-round knockout of a who called "The Iron Duke" in the 15th, got a 99-90 nod from the judges. Dupas and Brown fought a 10-point "must" battle. John Burton scored the win for Dupas, 99-90. The Associated Press announced that Dupas had won the fight.

A Look From London at Patterson's Next Opponent

BY TOM A. CULLERT
USA Staff Correspondent

LONDON—(NEA)—Joe Erskine, a bull-chested Welsh steeplechase turned British Empire heavyweight champion, will be in the Wembley Stadium ring this spring against Floyd Patterson if he can get past Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, Feb. 25.

The kindest thought advanced by boxing people so far is that the idea of an Erskine-Patterson bout is weird.

But this seems in keeping with Erskine, who is the center of the strongest feud in British boxing history. The fighter and his manager, Benny Jacobs, barely speak as a result of a fall-out over money a year ago.

Jacobs has little or nothing to do with Erskine's training. Erskine's big fight he is not in the dressing room and during it sits as far away from the corner as possible.

IT BEGAN LAST YEAR after Erskine, overweight and sluggish, was taken out by the first flurry of punches thrown by Nino Valdes. The fight lasted a bit over a minute.

It was Erskine's first defeat in 33 fights (his record now is 35-1) and after it he moved out of Jacobs' gym—and life, except for the matter of a contract which still has five years to run.

Erskine's blood lines are strictly those of a fighter. He is from Welsh fighting stock. His grandfather's family, he recalls, used to tour England with a boxing show in which his great uncle, as well as his great uncles, fought with bare fists.

One of his great uncles was recognized as a champion ball-puncher, club swinger and boxer at the turn of the century.

"Nana," Erskine's grandmother, ran a seamen's bathhouse at Cardiff and acted as her own bouncer. His father, Johnny, is known as "The Terror of Tiger Bay" from his fighting days.

IT'S NO WONDER in his power, but British rules forbid it so his masterminds were forced to keep him in the gym.

"By means of a diet of raw meat and a few eggs, he was kept in the gym and when he was ready to go and when he was ready to fight."

Erskine took the Vozes defeat very hard, but not nearly as hard as the British press. Before stepping into the ring with the big Cuban, Joe was a shining argument against any talk of "Erskine's Heavyweight Feud," as they were being called.

Erskine scarcely had his hands up when they had to cart him to his corner.

"Appalling Debacle," the Daily Mail headline read next day. "The last story began, 'British heavyweight boxing died last night.' Since then, Joe has made a fine comeback, defeating Peter Bates, Henry Cooper and Joe Egan, the last two in 15 rounds for the empire titles.

HE TRAINS HARD. He has sent his wife June and two daughters to live with relatives while he gets ready for Johansson and Patterson. He likes to do roadwork uphill. "Good for the legs," he maintains. Joe is a natural 132-pounder.

While all of Britain is eager for the Patterson match—the first on British soil since Jack Palmer was KO'd by Tommy Burns in 1908—nobody is enchanted with Erskine.

He doesn't have the punch to excite people and he deliberately shuns publicity.

"I prefer it that way," he says. "Having no publicity suits me fine. I don't want it. In fact, I'd prefer to be the underdog anyway."

He gets his wish. The Daily Mirror, George Nagan of the Daily Sketch and the Patterson match. Patterson, 26, was KO'd by Erskine in the 15th round.

Ken Venturi Is Out To Make It Three In Row at Tucson

Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—Ken Venturi, currently the hottest golfer on the pro circuit, is out to make it three in a row in the $15,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament, which starts today.

But the 26-year-old San Francisco, recent winner of the Thunderbird Invitational and the Phoenix, is only one of a dozen contenders considered as likely winners.

PGA Supervisor Harry Raynor says the flat, 6,434-yard, par-70 El Rio Country Club course is so easy that 72 holes of par golf isn't expected to win a dime—unless it rains.

Venturi gained national recognition in 1956 when, as an amateur, he went into the final round of the Masters Tournament with a four-stroke lead. He shot 80, lost and exploded verbally after coming off the course.

In the Tucson event, Venturi will have to contend, among others, with Frank Stranahan, winner of the Los Angeles Open; E. J. Dutch Harrison, who took top money at the Tijuana Open; and J. C. Goosie, winner of the El Centro, Calif., Open.

Byrd and Greer Proving Top Scoring Combination

Huntington, W. Va. (AP)—Leo Byrd and Hal Greer, two home-grown basketball products who didn't meet until integration put them on the same campus, are combining their abundant talents to make Marshall the nation's major college scoring leader.

They are the only scoring duo from the same college among the top individual point makers listed by the NCAA.

Byrd, with 36 points, fattened his average to 26.3 in Marshall's 98-89 victory over Ohio University last night.

Greer, hand-picked by the late Cam Henderson to become the first Negro varsity athlete in the school's 120-year history got 28 against the Bobcats and now is at 26.7 after 16 games.

The team has won 12 and lost 4.

Oklahoma Cowboys Continue Run for NCAA Tourney Berth

The Associated Press

Hank Iba, the Iron Duke who teaches his kids tough, close-to-the-vest basketball, has his 500th victory at Oklahoma State packed away as the Cowboys continue their run for an NCAA Tournament "at-large" berth.

Oklahoma State whipped the Tulsa Hurricane 64-46 last night. Western Kentucky's Ed Diddle and Kentucky's Adolph Rupp are the only other active coaches who have won 500 at one school.

Diddle has a 673-231 record for 26 years at Western Kentucky while Rupp has won 575, lost 101 in 28 years at Kentucky.

The ranks No. 2, behind Diddle, in games won with a 612-176 record for his 29 years with Maryland, Mo., Colorado and Oklahoma State. He has won 154 in his 24 years with the Cowboys.

Oklahoma State, ranked sixth in this week's Associated Press poll, pushed its season record to 14-2, behind the 28-point work of Arlen Clark.

Temple 15-2 was the only other member of the top 10 in action. The Owls extended their winning streak to 14, longest among the majors, with a 72-48 breeze past Duquesne. Guy Rodgers had one of his best games for the 10th ranked Owls, scoring 25 points.

Bradley, rated No. 11, gained a 13-3 record with a 71-58 decision over Arizona.

Dayton, the winningest club among the nation's top 20, picked up a 17-2 record with a 64-62 overtime squeaker against Miami of Ohio. Don Lane broke a 62-62 regulation tie in the first minute of the overtime, and when Miami missed a return shot, the 14th ranked Flyers turned to control ball for the rest of the session.

WIN FOR ST. VINCENT

Latrobe (AP)—Bernie Peterson pushed in a field goal with 20 seconds left last night to give St. Vincent College an 83-82 basketball victory over Baldwin Wallace. Three Bearcats hit double figures. Jack Kalbfus had 27 points, Peterson 26 and Harry Folk 22. Folk became the first player in St. Vincent basketball history to score over a thousand points, his total now being 1,019. Don Schena tallied 35 points as Geneva College came back from a 13-point halftime deficit for an 84-87 victory over Westminster at Beaver Falls.

CONSTRUCTED EXPANSION

A MAGNUM SHELL MAY FIT A STANDARD SHELLS CHAMBER BUT UNABLE TO EXPAND FULLY WHEN FIRED. THE CONSTRUCTED EXPANSION WOULD BUILD UP DANGEROUS PRESSURES. THEREFORE, IF A SHOTGUN IS LIMITED TO STANDARD-LENGTH SHELLS, BE SURE SHORT-MAGNUM LOADS ARE NOT LONGER.

KEEP DIFFERENT-GAUGED SHELLS SEPARATED IF YOU USE VARIOUS GAUGE GUNS! FOR EXAMPLE IF A 20-GAUGE SHELL WILL SLIP INTO THE BORE OF A 12-GAUGE SHOTGUN, THEN IF A 12-GAUGE SHELL IS FIRED—WITH A 20" IN THE BORE, GUN MAY EXPLODE.

J. K. Davis to Seek Fifth Term in the General Assembly

In a letter to the Times-Mirror, James Kepler Davis, of Pennsylvania, who has served in the Pennsylvania General Assembly since 1951, announces that he is a candidate for his fifth term in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Davis was either sponsor or co-sponsor of more than a score of bills which were enacted into laws which bore upon conditions affecting the more sparsely settled counties of this region.

There were also several other enacted laws of a broader application in which he figured. He was co-sponsor of two Constitutional amending acts, the Korean Veterans' Bonus and a provision for latitude in levying taxes on private forest reserves. Rep. Davis also was the prime sponsor of two acts which will bring into being many more roadside rests for Pennsylvania.

Besides being a member of the House of Representatives, he is chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, secretary of the Ways and Means Committee, a member of the Highways Committee, and he serves on the Committee on Committees, one of the top 10 functional committees of the House.

Mr. Davis was chairman in 1954 of a sub-committee under the Joint State Government Commission which studied the problem of eliminating frills from the building of schools. The committee's report, published in pamphlet form, was largely embodied into a bill which passed the House in December, 1955.

A native of Forest County, which he represents, he was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He retired from the Navy with the rank of rear admiral after World War II.

THESE AMERICANS

AND 800,000 OTHERS ARE CURED OF CANCER

Alive today... because they went to their doctors in time! Every year more and more Americans are being cured of cancer. But the tragic fact, our doctors tell us, is that every sixth cancer death is a needless death. So many people just don't consult their doctors when the disease is in its early... and therefore more curable... stage. Let's give our doctors a chance to head off cancer in time! Form the life-saving habit of a head-to-toe health checkup once a year. For men, this should include a chest x-ray; for women, a pelvic examination. Make it a habit... for life.

Job Development Meeting Called in Erie February 13th

It was learned today through Andrew J. Donick, manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, that the first of seven regional conferences to explore employment possibilities have been called by Governor Leader for Erie on Thursday, February 13. It will be held at the Cathedral Preparatory School Auditorium, 230 West 10th Street, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

The sessions are known as the Governor's Job Development Conferences and Governor Leader will personally address them. Accompanying Leader will be several departmental officials concerned with the disbursement of state funds.

The purpose of the Conference is to see what can be done to advance the time-table for planned public and private construction work, and thereby cushion the impact of the current recession.

As now planned, the Governor will keynote the Conference and participate in the opening and closing sessions. Four section meetings are planned to discuss ways to accelerate school construction, other public construction, non-government construction, and other public and private spending. All sessions will be chaired by appropriate State officials.
